

Session 2: Writing Your First C Program - Topics:Setting Up Environment -Installing a C Compiler (e.g., GCC), Choosing an IDE (DevC++, VS Code, Codeblocks, etc) Basic structure of C program (header, main, return).Compile and run using GCC or VS Code terminal.Example: "Hello, TOPS Technologies!"

Tasks

1.

Install GCC on your computer and verify the installation by running `gcc --version` in your terminal or command prompt.

C:\WINDOWS\system32\cmd. x + v
Microsoft Windows [Version 10.0.26200.9278]

C:\Users\gajja>gcc --version gcc (GCC) 16.2.0

2.

Open VS Code or DevC++ and create a new file named `hello.c`. Write a C program that prints 'Hello, Instagram World!' to the console.

#include <stdio.h>

int main()
{
    printf("Hello, Instagram World!");
    return 0;
}
```

3.

Identify and label the header, main function, and return statement in your hello.c program using comments.

// Header

#include <stdio.h>

// Main Function

int main()
{
    printf("Hello, Instagram World!");

    // Return Statement

    return 0;
}

4.

Compile your hello.c file using the GCC command line (gcc hello.c -o hello) and run the output file to display the message in your terminal. Hint: On Windows, the output file will be hello.exe; on Linux/Mac, it will be hello.

```
C:\WINDOWS\system32\cmd. x + v
Microsoft Windows [Version 10.0.26200.9278]
